

Advertisement (draft)

School experiences and educational attainment for children in rural compared with urban areas (Ref. BCPHD DEX)

This project will use data from the large-scale longitudinal Millennium Cohort Study and quantitative methods of analysis to examine the differences in school experiences of children in rural and urban areas and whether children's development is different in rural and urban areas after other factors have been taken into consideration.

Supervisors are Professors Shirley Dex (Institute of Education) and John Shepherd (Birkbeck College)